Media Advisory: EPL set to open new Capilano Branch Join us for a sneak peek inside

EDMONTON, AB, October 31, 2018 – Join the Edmonton Public Library (EPL) for a media tour of our new Capilano Branch before it opens to the public.

The new standalone library, located at 9915 67 Street and over 11,000 square feet in size, will be a place Capilano residents can call their own when it opens on Thursday, Nov. 8. Bordering Fulton Ravine, the new branch features serene views and natural light. The library also has a larger community room, quiet study space, its very own makerspace, and ground floor access.

EPL has been serving the Capilano community since 1966, where the library has been a well-used and loved hub. The new space is an upgrade that addresses accessibility challenges of the previous location, improves the customer experience, and provides stunning and functional architecture.

The $11.8 million project, designed by Patkau Architects/Group2 Architecture, is targeting LEED Silver certification.

Capilano is our fourth building project to open in 2018, and one of 21 branches across Edmonton.
