

Aaida Peerani is corporate counsel at the Jaffer Group of Companies. She was previously a staff lawyer at a non-profit organization that was committed to advancing social justice. She was also a lawyer at national firm in the corporate/commercial, private client services and litigation departments. Aaida obtained a Bachelor's of Arts in Sociology with distinction from the University of Alberta and thereafter, graduated with a JD/MBA from Osgoode Hall Law School and the Schulich School of Business. Her professional experiences drive her to combine creativity, optimism and pragmatism to develop strategies for civic advancement. Aaida strongly believes that public libraries can empower individuals and communities to transform lives by providing critical resources, social connections and adaptable spaces.