Report on White House IMLS Medal Ceremony by Board Chair Keiba Crear and Executive Director Jeanne Goodrich. (Item IV.) Chair Crear said that it was an honor and a privilege to represent Trustees and staff of the District at the White House IMLS Medal Ceremony on May 8, 2014. Crear said she is still speechless and very excited that the District received the Medal for Museum and Library Service. In speaking to people at the event, she was so pleased to hear how amazing District programs were and to receive that type of acknowledgement. She feels that receiving this medal just goes to show how hard the staff works every day and how well this reflects on District leadership.

Chair Crear was also very touched by Community Member Avree Walker – he is a wonderful young man and the District is very privileged to have him supporting District programs. Crear added that one thing Mrs. Obama said in her speech that stayed with Crear was a comment about the great programs all the winners were doing and a request that these institutions continue to try to reach the people that are difficult to reach but still have a need for these programs. Crear knows that the District has the staff to develop and create programs to reach these people. Crear appreciated the opportunity to attend the event and concluded by saying that the praise goes to Ms. Goodrich and District staff.

Executive Director Goodrich agreed with Chair Crear’s comments. Goodrich was able to attend as one District representative, but the District has over 700 employees that made the award possible over a number of years. Goodrich acknowledged the work of Development Director Danielle Patrick Milam who wrote the medal winning application and Marketing and Community Relations Director Pat Marvel who edited it and helped with all the details, as there are two parts to every winning entry – what you do and how you present it. There was a round of applause for Ms. Milam and Ms. Marvel.

Ms. Goodrich said she was very touched when Luis Herrera, Director of the San Francisco Public Library, came up and talked to her. Goodrich had worked with Herrera when she was consulting and he was in Pasadena. Herrera is on the IMLS Board and it is they who reviewed the applications and made the decision. Herrera said, when he saw the District’s application, he knew he was going to see something special and when he read it, he got tears in his eyes. Goodrich thought that was an incredible compliment to receive from a colleague.

Mr. Goodrich said that receiving the award at the White House was an incredible experience. The group was in the historic rooms, including the East Room and the Blue Room, where pictures were taken of the group with Mrs. Obama. Mrs. Obama’s warmth and interest in the kinds of programs that the award-winning libraries and museums offered was absolutely genuine. Regarding the chitchat between the winners and Mrs. Obama during the medal presentation, both Ms. Goodrich and Mr. Walker know that Mrs. Obama talked to them both while they were up there, but neither could remember her comments as they were so caught up in the moment!

Ms. Goodrich agreed that Mr. Walker is a remarkable young man and said he told her he was very honored to be representing the District. Walker had so many ideas and was very inspired by the trip and Goodrich believed that he will be going as far as his imagination will take him. Goodrich felt proud that the District helped set Walker on his course.

Trustee Moulton was so glad to be able to watch the ceremony and she said she was in her kitchen applauding everyone. Moulton was excited to hear not only about the District, but the other institutions honored as well. She congratulated staff and thanked them.

Trustee Bilbray-Axelrod commented that the District is in great company and said she was inspired to plan a trip based upon the locations honored with the medals. She congratulated everyone and felt it was a great job done.

Chair’s Report
(Item VI.)

After a brief discussion, Chair Crear appointed the following Trustees as members of the Nominating Committee: Michael Saunders, Shannon Bilbray-Axelrod, Sheila Moulton and Ydoleena Yturralde. Trustees Saunders was appointed Committee Chair. The Nominating Committee will meet prior to the June 12, 2014 Regular Board Meeting.

Chair Crear reminded Trustees that the Executive Director’s Performance Evaluation will be on the agenda at the June 12, 2014 Regular Board Meeting.

Executive Director’s Report
(Item VII.A.)

NOTE: Several Trustees had questions and comments on staff reports and those are placed in the appropriate department report location below. Ms. Goodrich’s comments came last.

Ms. Goodrich wanted to emphasize one of the items in her written report. As she reported, Development Director Danielle Milam was invited to Arizona State University to meet with representatives from ASU, Phoenix Public Library and Scottsdale Public Library to discuss projects related to small business support and youth STEM instruction. Joel Garreau, who works at both ASU and the New America Foundation, and worked with Ms. Milam at the Urban Library Council, held this meeting as preparation for his participation in the Library of Congress meeting on “The Future of Libraries.” Milam was also able to see what was happening in Phoenix and Scottsdale in this area. Mr. Garreau and his Emerge Team are very interested in the intersection among libraries, community spaces, maker spaces and the impact libraries and museums can have on their communities.

Ms. Goodrich is very pleased about this invitation and felt it was important for the District to receive it. The District is developing a cadre of well-respected local and national leaders who are sought out for their expertise.

Ms. Goodrich then explained that the reason General Services Director Steve Rice and Assistant Public Services Director Jennifer Schember were not present at this meeting is due to their attendance at a Digital Design workshop that Library Journal is sponsoring in Salt Lake City. They are able to see the new libraries in Salt Lake City and speak to their colleagues.

Ms. Goodrich noted that all of the items in the reports fit together: how people want to use libraries, how people want to come together, how people want to learn. People want to learn from each other as well as from experts at all ages in their communities. The District has the teen TechArt Studio program established and staff have already been asked by adults if they can participate as well. In addition, District staff had an interesting session earlier in the week with staff from Chicago and the Hirschhorn Museum in Washington, D.C., discussing how institutions can continue to build these types of programs. It was a great opportunity to make different connections and District staff continues to make this type of connection with other institutions in the country.

Ms. Goodrich said she would also like to underscore what Trustee Moulton said when she reads the reports and is struck by the numbers of partnerships and collaborations the District has. The District has staff looking into further definitions of partnerships and alliances. Staff are also looking into how these agreements further the District’s strategic priorities of READ LEARN ACHIEVE. The District has a lot going on and wants to continue to manage it well so that the partnerships provide the kinds of services to the community that patrons need and that staff are leveraging District resources with other community partners.

Public Services and Security Report (Item VII.A.1.)

Trustee Bilbray-Axelrod asked about the District’s definition for gate-count as shown in the Public Services statistics. Deputy Director COO Tom Fay said it is the number of people coming through the branch doors.

Trustee Moulton commented on the number of times partnerships are mentioned in the reports. She believes partnerships with other organizations are so important as the library brings people together.

Trustee Benavidez said she noted a lot of calls to the paramedics in this month’s Security Report. She asked whether District staff receive first aid training or is there a District requirement for staff to take CPR classes. Mr. Fay said that the requirements vary depending on whether the branch is located in the City of Las Vegas or in the county. If the branch is located in the city, there is a defibrillator on site and staff are required to go through a basic training course. In the branches located in the rest of the county, staff are directed in what they should or should not do in an emergency situation, working with the District’s safety committee. When in doubt, staff are directed to call 911 or the paramedics. In some cases, staff will observe patrons exhibiting some type of erratic behavior and the patron is able to get up and go on. In other cases, patrons are self-reporting. The District sometimes sees this in the summer months – people experience additional distress due to the heat.

Trustee Ortiz noticed a substantial increase in library cards issued at the Las Vegas and Whitney branches and asked if staff can explain the reasons for the increase. Mr. Fay said that the Las Vegas YPL area has undergone major improvements due to its designation as a Family Place Library and many items were moved around and improved. The YPL Department Head has also been very aggressive in going out into the community and bringing people in. The marketing team, as well, has been working with all the branches in a major promotion for library card signups (Love Your Library) during March and April. It was a very good month for library card sign-ups District-wide.
Trustee Yturralde asked about the satellite issue at Mount Charleston detailed in the Information Technology Report. Information Technology Director Al Prendergast explained that Internet access at the Mount Charleston Library has always been challenging because of the location. There is very little Internet or Wi-Fi access on the mountain. Whatever District staff does at the branch has to be wireless. The District has placed a satellite dish at the location to increase the connection speed over what previously existed and it is faster, but still slow compared to other District facilities (including smaller, outlying branches such as Goodsprings). Mr. Prendergast continued to say that putting in another satellite dish would not increase the performance that much. Staff have optimized the current equipment as much as possible. Prendergast added that the District has a lease agreement with Clark County and if they build a satellite tower on the Mount Charleston property, the District would have the opportunity to use it as well. That would increase the Internet performance at that location.

Trustee Wadley-Munier joined the meeting via telephone at this time (6:11 p.m.).

Trustee Benavidez moved to convene the Public Hearing regarding the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District’s Tentative Budget for Fiscal Year 2014-2015. There was no opposition and the motion carried.

Ms. Goodrich and Deputy Director CFO Fred James presented the FY 2014-2015 Tentative Budget to the Trustees. A copy of the presentation used is attached as Exhibit B.

Ms. Goodrich commented that the Tentative Budget is exciting as the District is moving forward from several tight years. This process began last year. She added that everything in the Tentative Budget reflected the goals, objectives and measurements coming out of the District’s strategic framework, READ LEARN ACHIEVE, to provide services that meets the District’s community needs.

During the presentation, several Trustees asked questions.

While Mr. James was explaining the sources of expected revenues during the fiscal year, Trustee Bilbray-Axelrod asked him to explain what made up the Charges for Services. James explained that the $1.1 million budgeted in this area came from fees from other libraries using District services, such as participating in the Integrated Library System. Ms. Goodrich added that the District had contracts with the City of North Las Vegas, Boulder City and Metro.

While Mr. James was discussing General Fund transfers to the Capital Projects Fund and explaining the different programs in the Fund, especially the maintenance and replacement programs, Trustee Ortiz wanted to confirm whether the District maintained inventory lists for depreciation purposes. James said yes and explained that the first programs in the Capital Projects Fund were started as District buildings and other property were aging and there was a need to maintain and replace them. James added that funds were put aside during good times to take care of these needs. Ortiz said he observed that other library systems did not do that and thought the District had a better system as once something is purchased, it has to be replaced at some future point.

During a discussion of the anticipated fiscal year spending in the Capital Projects programs, Chair Crear wanted to know if the District vehicles being replaced were eligible to go to auction. Mr. James said that was the method of disposal.

During Ms. Goodrich’s discussion of the anticipated service impacts of the tentative budget which included increased staffing by 15.35 FTEs, Trustee Moulton wanted to confirm that figure was District-wide, not just for a single branch, which Goodrich confirmed.

After the presentation was concluded, Trustee Wadley-Munier thanked Mr. James and District staff for their hard work and constant review to ensure the District is spending its money wisely. Wadley-Munier was happy to see more technology items funded as she believes that is the way of the future.

Ms. Goodrich and Mr. James thanked staff in the Business Office for their hard work putting together the FY 2014-2015 Tentative Budget. James introduced Assistant Finance Director Floresto Cabias and Administrative Assistant Lynn Lucuara who were present. Goodrich thanked Accountant Keishi ONEal for her work, who was not present, on the staffing numbers.

Chair Crear believed all Trustees are amazed at the District’s budget and appreciates the good financial shape the District is in. She thanked everyone for their hard work.

Trustee Ortiz commented that it is very difficult sometimes to read the budget material, but at the end of the day, he felt it was a good, bulletproof budget and he says this after having looked at other budgets. He felt it was a testament to the District’s commitment to its users and citizens. While he is a fairly new Trustee, he feels the District is on the right track and continues to be so.

Ms. Goodrich thanked everyone for their comments and said that the sacrifices that were made, were made by all staff. There were some tough years and yet, everyone can see what was achieved by getting through those years. The District does have stability and kept the jobs that remained since that time. If District staff had not taken the steps to cut down several years ago, there would have been more cutbacks. The District made an investment early on in the recession and it has paid off.

There were no public comments.

Trustee Benavidez moved to close the Public Hearing on the Tentative Budget. There was no opposition and the motion carried.

Discussion and possible Board action to adopt the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District’s Final Budget for Fiscal Year 2014-2015. (Item IX.B.)

Trustee Bilbray-Axelrod moved to adopt the final Las Vegas-Clark County Library District’s Fiscal Year 2014-2015 Budget subject to any modifications as directed by Trustees and instruct staff to adjust estimated Fiscal Year 2014-2015 revenues in accordance with final estimates from the Department of Taxation provided such estimates are received in sufficient time for staff to make adjustments by the June 1, 2014 filing date. There was no opposition and the motion carried.
