Library Director's Report for July 2020 - WFH Edition, Episode 4

Phase 3 of the library's reopening began June 29. This was a week later than we initially planned to allow for additional time to get the building prepared and create better procedural documents for staff. To the services previously offered, we added quick browsing of our collections and limited public computer access in the auditorium.

The emphasis is on quick visits and no hanging out. Not being a gathering place for our community is jarring, but based on current health guidelines, we do not believe we are ready to have people staying in the building for long periods of time.

Traffic in the building has been steady, with about 400 to 600 people visiting a day. We have yet to reach our building limit of 50 visitors. You can see from our checkout numbers in the board packet we aren't anywhere near our pre-COVID numbers, but people are returning to the library and checking things out again.

I continue to spend a fair amount of time at our front door and in our front lobby. Welcoming back regulars as well as newcomers getting their first library card with us, it is lovely to see people in the building again. We receive considerable comments about the safety precautions we have put in place. Folks have told us they feel safe when they come in and applaud the way we are working to keep our staff safe as well. I feel very good about our current model.

Other than the time I'm spending on the floor, I have been working on some of our Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) efforts. I am currently developing a job description for a DEI Coordinator position that would join our leadership team. I am consulting with Jannette Taylor, former CEO of the United Way of Douglas County, on building the position description. She has considerable experience working in the area of DEI and is an excellent consultant.

Additionally, I have begun conversations with Wooseob Jeong, the Dean of Emporia State's School of Library and Information Management, and his team about launching our internship program to recruit new Black librarians into our profession. They sound very excited about this opportunity to partner with us. Looking forward to getting something off the ground. I anticipate having something ready to go for the winter semester. More updates as this develops.

Lastly, you will find a memo from me in the board packet with an update to our 2021 budget. Revenue projections from the City were lower than we expected, and we decreased some of our non-tax revenue lines as well. Despite decreased revenue, I believe we can keep the mill flat and accomplish our goals for the upcoming year.

Monthly Departmental Reports July 2020

Accounts: The entire Accounts staff is back working their normal hours. During hours open to the public we continue to staff the Accounts desk and Phone room, assisting patrons with all normal circulation issues. In the hours before we open to the public we assist with filing holds. In the evening after we close to the public, Accounts staff have been condition checking items coming out of quarantine. We continue to offer curbside pick up of holds for patrons in high risk categories for COVID-19. The book van is currently only visiting one full stop right now, though several are allowing us to drop off holds without coming into their facilities. We are planning on expanding our home delivery service to include patrons in high risk categories for COVID-19.

Cataloging & Collection Development: Catalogers and selectors have taken over the book drop responsibilities, moving items to quarantine. Catalogers are now working full days in the building and have caught up with their backlogs, and selectors are working half days in the building (for condition checking and weeding materials) and half days at home (responding to suggested purchases and ordering materials).

Facilities: We added one to our Team and increased the hours of another teammate to replace the one we lost in May plus a loss from the beginning of March. At the end of June, we assisted with setup for the current phase of allowing patrons into more of the building. We tucked away chairs and arranged partitions, tables and other furniture to prevent access to restricted areas. We helped setup barriers for the service desks (sneeze guards) and coordinated the installation of social distancing floor decals. Our Maintenance Lead (Phillip Howard) added much needed wall tile to several restrooms and continues to "freshen up" the walls wherever he can with fresh paint. Thanks to Brad and Parks & Rec the sidewalk directly south of the Library was power washed, so our Team will be taking a more active role in keeping it clean since we are back in full force. Beyond the morning deep cleaning of the building and then hourly cleaning of restrooms and high-touch points, we've been busy laundering & bagging donated cloth masks, bagging disposable masks, and keeping the rest of the staff supplied with fresh SAO and clean cloths (which means more laundry)... so much laundry).

- Speaking of SAO: we've been using a lot lately, and it's worth pointing out that utilizing Stabilized Aqueous Ozone is saving the Library almost $8 a day!

Information Services: Info staff have resumed working their normal hours, and are staffing the Ask Desk and phone room, creating displays, and shelving nonfiction materials, with other projects underway off-desk and/or remotely. Our 3rd How-To Festival, held virtually this year, was another fun and well-received event. We had over 300 attendees tune in across 16 presentations, on topics ranging from birdwatching to yo-yos; viewers were both local and from other states. A parks & rec department in Florida even reached out to us to ask for advice on planning their own How-To Festival! We continue to work with partners to encourage 2020 Census participation and voter registration, and have put together an Elections and Voting guide to help voters find information on voting and candidates. Ariel LaGue, this summer's Hall Center intern, is hard at work preparing videos of Douglas County WWII veterans' oral histories to go online. One bittersweet note: Jill Mickel announced her decision to retire--we will miss her so! She will facilitate the July and August sessions of Mindful Crafting before she departs LPL.

Marketing: Worked with BLT and SLT to finalize the library's reopening plan for Phase 3 (aka LPL Express) and get messaging in place (KPR, social media, website, media release, staff talking points, internal signage, banners, etc.) Worked with Kevin Corcoran and Joel Bonner to launch the Kaw Valley Jukebox, the library's new regional music archive and streaming service on July 7 (branding, logo design, media release, social media) and will continue to assist as needed as we move to calls for submissions and merch like buttons, stickers, and even tees.) Transitioning away from MailChimp to Orange Boy direct email service full-time and will end MC subscription as soon as mailing list import is complete. Working on the Fall issue of the Reader magazine with a new focus on functionality as a "how to use the library from home" and making it an evergreen advocacy tool to augment our move to evolving our Outreach efforts. Currently working the Front Door shift (MON 10 AM-12 PM) and BLT Floater shift (TUE 12-2 PM) as well as being back in the library MON-TUE 9-6.

Materials Handling: Research from the REALM Project, a joint research project from the Online Computer Library Center (OCLC) and the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), showed that quarantining items for three days continues to be our best line of defense to ensure that all items circulated are free from the COVID virus. All departments continue to help serve patrons by pulling holds at least once a day and even twice a day Monday through Thursday. Patrons continue to utilize the lockers at Hy-Vee for easy access to their holds and now have access to the self-service holds shelves inside the library. Interlibrary Loan is again fully operational, though there are still many libraries nationwide that have not reopened their lending so fulfillment rates may be lower or slower than usual for our patrons.

Readers' Services: Most staff have resumed some sense of normal hours, with 2-3 staff being in the building at a time to staff the Readers' desk, shelve, pull holds, work door shifts, etc. There are a few content hours scheduled for in the building, but mostly I am having the staff work from home when they can. Most online programming continues - BYOBB, Facebook Readers' Advisory, Twitter #AskaLibrarian, and most of our book clubs. Short Story and Queer book club will be going on haitus for a while. With the departure of Kaitlin Stanley, we are down to 6 in the department, but we feel right now that we are well covered and will work with Brad on when we might need to discuss rehiring the position. I did an interview with Jessie from NEKLS who was seeking help to plan and implement a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion book club for the NEKLS librarians.

Technology: Technology staff have been mostly working full schedules in the building for the past several weeks. We are staffing a limited computer lab located in the auditorium. Most of our normal services are available including computer access, printing, copying, scanning, and faxing. Only eight public use computer stations are available with sessions limited to 60 minutes per patron per day. Usage of this service has climbed steadily week over week. Week two showed about 1.5x the usage as week one. Week three showed about 2x the usage as week one. There is still plenty of room to grow with the current arrangement. Week three usage so far represents about half of available computer hours. Other department functions continue with our studio manager Jim Barnes researching and working on improvements to the studio space as well as developing programming. Technology assistant Sean Wilson and coordinator Aaron Brumley have been working on a plan for remote patron assistance. Technology assistant Joel Bonner has been focused on the launch of the new local music repository, Kaw Valley Jukebox (music.lplks.org). Technology specialist Kim Fletcher continues to provide staff support remotely for ILS and other system administrative support.

Youth Services:

Monthly Departmental Reports July 2020

YS staff are back in the building and working a combined desk for kids and teens. We have been busy weeding the collection, working on virtual programs, creating book bundles for people to check out quickly, and doing tasks we used to rely on volunteers for: shelving and pulling holds. Our summer reading software, Beanstack, has been a great tool to use for summer reading. We have 1600 registered users and about 1000 active readers. We're planning for fall programs to be totally virtual and reaching out to school librarians to see how we can be of help in the coming school year.

Friends & Foundation Director's Report – July 17, 2020

Book Sale Update. Thanks to meticulous planning on the part of Angela Hyde and the on-site and internet book sales committees, lots of activity is happening in the book sale garage:

- Volunteers are back! We've opened up our space in a very limited capacity to Friends volunteers. For now, volunteer hours are from 9 AM until 1 PM on weekdays. There is a limit of three volunteers in the space at a time and all volunteers need to stay masked while they are inside.
- Sales are back! We currently are trying out a personal shopping appointment system.
 Right now this option is open to Friends & Foundation members and we only allow one family group per appointment. If all goes well, we hope to open this up to everyone (non-members) on Monday, July 27.
- Donations are NOT back! We're taking things slow and easy for now. Most of our volunteers do not feel comfortable coming back until there is a vaccine or local cases decrease significantly. This means we are capacity limited, and we've got to clear out our shelves before we can bring in new books! When we do open for donations, it will be by appointment only.

Lawrence Green Spaces Art Project. The Friends & Foundation have partnered with Lawrence Magazine, Douglas County Community Foundation, the Kansas Land Trust and Mainline Printing on this incredible local parks project. Eleven local artists were commissioned to create WPA-style posters of Lawrence parks. Sales of these posters benefit the artists and the library. To date, the Friends & Foundation have earned more than $10,000 by selling postcards and prints of the artwork. The artwork is currently on display in library lobby windows through the end of August. A huge THANK YOU goes to Friends & Foundation board member Mary Gage for spearheading this project.

Humanities CARES Act Relief Grant: Great news! The Friends & Foundation have received a grant for $7,500 to help support the Friends & Foundation's payroll expenses. These are federal funds distributed to state humanities councils by the National Endowment for the Humanities from the CARES Act.

Walmart Grant. The Friends & Foundation have received a $2,000 grant for the library's Summer Reading program from the Walmart Foundation. We are so grateful to the manager of the Walmart store at 6th and Congressional Drive for approving our application and making the grant possible.

Virtual Party In Place. Our week of bookish adult Summer Reading fun came to a big crescendo on Saturday, June 20th with the Party in Place. This virtual party featured Lawrence's new Librarian Party Girl, Paige Turner, who engaged our at-home audience with clever conversation and fabulous prizes. A huge shout-out goes to Friends & Foundation board members Brandon Eisman and Imani Wadud for putting themselves out there to celebrate and support the library's Summer Reading program. Thanks to donations from the Party in Place, the Walmart grant, and Jeff and Mary Weinberg, we were able to raise an additional $10,000 for the library's Summer Reading program.

Event Rescheduling. We are working to reschedule our upcoming major author events: Joy Harjo: Originally scheduled for November 2020; rescheduling for fall 2021 Susan Orlean: Originally scheduled for October 2020; rescheduling for spring 2021 Colson Whitehead: Originally scheduled for spring 2021; reschedule date pending.

RE: Lawrence Public Library 2021 Budget Update

On April 20, 2020, the Library submitted a request of $5,045,000 to be levied by the City of Lawrence on behalf of the Library for our 2021 budget. You will remember that we determined this amount assuming a 5.5% increase in property valuation and no mill increase.

On Monday, July 6, 2020, I received our updated budget amount based on no mill increase. The number was $4,903,000, or a 2.5% increase from our 2020 budget. This number is based on two factors: a 4.3% assessed valuation increase and an increase in the delinquency factor percentage. The City wisely is choosing a conservative approach to tax collection for 2021 by increasing the delinquency factor.

Additionally, I learned from the City that they expect to collect $75,000 more this year than our adopted 2020 budget of $4,782,000. We have two options on how that money could be dispersed: 1) an amended 2020 budget of $4,857,000 or 2) carrying the money over to 2021. I asked that we receive the $75,000 in our 2021 budget, making next year's budget request from the City to be $4,978,000. Carryover is actually a simpler process for the City in that our budget does not need to be amended for 2020.

Lastly, our bookkeeper Denise Berkley and I examined our non-tax revenue lines and adjusted them downward given expected revenue losses in several revenue lines (see attached 2021 budget worksheet).

I recommend that the library board approve the attached budget that keeps our mill flat for 2021.
