

HBCU and Greek-Letter Organizations

The preservation and importance of historical black colleges and universities is immeasurable—yet, this conversation reflects many blacks' pursuit of equal access, opportunity and knowledge of self. This collection of reference sources highlight and often overlooked avenue of higher education—the historical, cultural legacy of African American institutions of learning.

This great legacy also includes black Greek-Letter organizations (Also termed: “The Divine Nine”). Provided are histories, directories, some personal narratives, and essential reference materials that celebrate notable blacks and Greek-letter organizations. Their efforts and narratives have greatly contributed to the black experience, as well as contributing to the black collegiate experience.

Sources include call numbers, for patrons to easily inquire and obtain resources. Auburn Avenue Research Library maintains non-circulating policies of its collection; however, patrons are able to utilize materials in-house. Suggested search terms and keywords are provided to further guide patron’s research amongst Auburn Avenue Research Library and the Atlanta-Fulton Public Library catalog and digital libraries. Boolean Operators below are simple words to narrow or refine search results.
